

he will do a great job helping the school.
Rosa went to West Miami

to be active, my plans will work out."

also earth, subtle changes we like to visit it but

Mr. Goldberg shoots the game.

SM's announcements have a new look

By MARIA BERNAL

Morning announcements have a bold new look at South Miami this year with the introduction to television news.

According to Mike Estrumsa, program director of W.S.M.H. and lunch time D.J., "All is working out beautifully just as we had hoped. The only problem so far is getting used to the equipment."

Students were selected last year for morning announcements. The students chosen were Mike Estrumsa, Kathy Coudel, Lilly Arango, and Marva Dixon.

Mr. Goldberg, teacher of television production class, is in charge of supervision and direction but eventually the students will be running the entire program.

Alex Diaz-Granados, floor director on Tuesdays and Thursdays said "It's going fine. We have our little problems here and there, but the kids are great, I love the whole thing!"

Mike Estrumsa explained that most teachers rated the program excellent as a result of the student's comments. He also stated, "There will be a big difference in future plans such as interviews and small comedies."

The television production class has new equipment that has improved the student's education. The students will have the opportunity to learn audio engineering, editing, make-up, and production the first semester and will be able to specialize in any of the areas on the second semester.